

Jacqueline Kennedy completed the following eight sketches as she waited to be interviewed for Look Magazine in 1963. Each work depicts an event or occurrence during the political career of her husband, President John F. Kennedy.

Gifted to the president of Cowles Communications and Look Magazine following the interview, the works have remained in his family collection until now.

jacquelinekennedy

