GILBERT ROHDE

Z clock

Herman Miller | USA, 1933 | chrome-plated metal, circular glass
11 h × 9 w × 3 d in (28 × 23 × 8 cm)

Gilbert Rohde designed a series of table clocks for Herman Miller beginning in 1921. The Z clock is one of the most abstract designs from this famous series. The actual face of the clock is a floating clear glass disk; only the etched bars mark time.

Estimate: $9,000–12,000
