FRANK GEHRY

conference table for the Chiat/Day Temporary Offices, Venice, California

J.A. Stewart Construction (general contractor for project) | USA, 1986 | pine, laminate
31¼ h × 253 w × 64 d in (79 × 643 × 163 cm)

The temporary offices of Chiat/Day were housed in a 42,000 square foot warehouse. One of Gehry's defining features within the interior was a fifty four foot fish formed of wooden ribs and clad in sheet metal that created the main conference room and housed this conference table. The table comprised of six individual segments. Each segment is illuminated from the underside and is on wheels.
