FRANK GEHRY Fish Lamp form

New City Editions | USA, 1989 | maple
8½ h × 21 w × 5 d in (22 × 53 × 13 cm)

Gehry experimented with several animal form lighting designs and incorporated aspects of these pursuits into his architecture. For the Chiat Day offices in Los Angeles, Gehry created a conference room that resembled a heavily scaled fish, and a restaurant in Kobe Japan features a Large sculptural fish. This form was hand-made and used as the mold for the lamp.

Provenance: Acquired directly from the artist's Private collection

Estimate: $3,000–5,000

Result: $3,540
