ISAMU NOGUCHI signed letter

USA, 1975 | paper
11 h × 8½ w in (28 × 22 cm)

In 1976 Isamu Noguchi designed the Friendship Fountain, a 150-foot steel frame structure to be erected on the edge of the Missouri river. While the fountain was never realized, this letter illustrates Noguchi's involvement as a consultant on the Arts committee of the Riverfront Development Program for the American Bicentennial of Omaha, Nebraska.

Literature: Isamu Noguchi: A Study of Space, Torres, pg. 270 illustrates and discusses project

Estimate: $500–700

Result: $375
