BRUCE NAUMAN

Who What Where When exhibition poster

offset lithograph on white wove paper
30 h x 34 w in (76 x 86 cm)

This exhibition poster was produced in conjunction with the opening of the Donald Young Gallery at its location on Washington Street in Chicago. It illustrates a figure sitting atop bleachers constructed by Naumann on the sidewalk in front of the gallery. The bleachers remained intact for two days until the city made the gallery take them down.

Signed, dated and numbered to lower right 'B Nauman 29/75 99'. This work is number 29 from the edition of 75 published by Donald Young Gallery, Chicago.

Estimate: $300–500

Result: $438
